

Satoshi Kawasaki

Work Experiences

Splunk – Splunk4Good Ninja

- Technical lead for Splunk4Good, Splunk's corporate social responsibility program.
- Using big data to help save and improve human lives across the globe from anti-human trafficking to city tree maintenance to the US elections.
- Selected as a speaker for 2017 .conf, Splunk's annual conference, on non-profit use cases and search optimizations.

July 2016 – now
San Francisco, California

Splunk – Professional Services Consultant

- Excelled at advanced visualizations and dashboards with my web programming background.
- Selected as a speaker for 2014 and 2015 .conf, Splunk's annual conference, on advanced visualizations and dashboards.

August 2013 – July 2016
San Francisco, California

Neadwerx, inc. – Software Engineer

- Full-stack engineer and helped create an enterprise custom SaaS application for a major American home improvement company.

April 2013 – July 2013
Atlanta, Georgia

CA Technologies – Associate Services Consultant

- Specialized in CA AppLogic and CA IT Process Automation Manager.

July 2011 – January 2013
Atlanta, Georgia

Education

Georgia Institute of Technology

Bachelor of Science in Aerospace Engineering

Graduated May 2011
Atlanta, Georgia

Certifications

Splunk Certified Consultant II – License 113862

CISSP – License 538945

Splunk Certified Architect – License 63030

Since October 2016

Since April 2016

Since November 2015

Technical and Language Skills

Programming:

- Mainly Python and JavaScript, such as D3.js and Underscore.js
- Previous web full-stack: Django, AJAX, PHP, HTML, CSS, SQL, and jQuery.
- Debug using Chrome Developer Tool.
- Edit in Vim.
- Git for revision control.

System:

- Linux command lines and shell scripts.
- Windows and Linux administration.

Infrastructure:

- Cloud computing, such as AWS and Microsoft Azure.

Language:

- Advanced Chinese, advanced Japanese, and intermediate German.